PARIS NEGRO CONFESSES AUTO THEFT

William Clark, 16-year-old negro boy, of Paris, arrested at Mt. Sterling by Chief of Police J. C. Tipton on advice from the Lexington police department and brought to Lexington on a charge of stealing an automobile, was held over by County Judge E. H. Doak to await action of the grand jury in juvenile court.

When Clark was arrested he had in his possession a Ford touring car which was identified as a machine stolen from W. S. Perkins, of Lexington.

Clark confessed to stealing a roadster, the property of J. Connors, of Bourbon county, from its parking place in Lexington on July 22, according to police. Clark said he sold the roadster to a negro at Richmond named Reuben Walford.

Clark stated that Walford promised to pay him $55 for the car, $20 of which was paid at the time of sale and the rest in smaller installments. The car, which is practically new, was brought back to Lexington.

HANCOCK HORSES SCORE IN SARATOGA RACES

A special dispatch Tuesday from Saratoga Springs, New York, to the daily papers, says:

"Arthur B. Hancock, the Bourbon county breeder, who will sell his great band of yearlings here next Friday night, is wearing a broad smile as he mingles with Eastern turfmen around Saratoga these days for the horses that romp daily over the race course here are giving his breeding genius the kind of advertising no money could buy.

"Last Saturday Martinage, a product of his Bourbon county stud, won the classic United States Hotel Stake. On Monday, Edict, another of the yearlings he brought here last August, won the Schuylerville and this afternoon Blazes and Ten Lec, two more thoroughbreds he sent to the turf scored impressive victories over their respective fields in the Delaware handicap and the Congress Park purse."

KENTUCKY MOTOR FEDERATION FORMED

The Kentucky Motor Federation, a State Federation of automobile clubs, was formed at Lexington, Wednesday at a conference at which representatives were present from Maysville, Falmouth, Cynthiana, Paris, Winchester, Covington and Lexington. The headquarters of the new State association will be maintained in Lexington.

Harvey Myers, of Covington, was unanimously chosen as president of the federation. Judge Denis Dundon, of Paris, and Judge A. H. Barker, of Falmouth, were the unanimous choices for the offices of first and second vice presidents, respectively. F. K. Augsburg, of Lexington was named as temporary secretary-treasurer of the organization.

Directors named by the permanent organization committee included Samuel B. Walton and Chas. T. Crowe, Lexington; Gus Brooks, Maysville; Judge Denis Dundon, Paris; H. Clay Smith, Cynthiana; Judge A. H. Barker, Falmouth, and Harvey Myers and T. R. Morgan, Covington. The foregoing officers were elected to serve until the first annual meeting of the board of directors.

Directors named by the permanent organization, composed of Mr. Myers, Judge Dundon, Judge Barker, Mr. Walton and Mr. Smith, recommended the adoption of the constitution with the provision that it would remain open for amendment until the next meeting, in order to give other counties a chance to form auto clubs and participate in the movement. The next meeting was called for Friday, September 1, in Lexington.

Those from Paris who attended were Denis Dundon, Harold Harris, Secretary of the Paris Commercial Club, and J. Withers Davis.

OVERHEATED BEARING CAUSES SLIGHT BLAZE

An alarm from Box 12 yesterday afternoon called the fire department to the Paris Milling Co.'s plant, in East Paris. An overheated bearing on a blow pipe carrying chaff from the mill ignited the chaff, causing a slight blaze. The fire was extinguished with chemicals, the damage being insignificant.

THE STRIKE SITUATION

With rejection by strikers of the President's latest proposal clearly in prospect, the indications are that the President plans drastic steps to solve the rail problem. He has called upon the House leaders to see to it that there is a full attendance when the House resumes its sessions Tuesday, and it is insistently suggested that he will call upon Congress to grant him authority to take over control of the railroads as was done in war times.

The striking unions have prepared their reply to the President, and will submit it to the heads of the railway brotherhoods who will be in session in Washington to-day. Their approval of the reply is expected and it will then be sent to the President.

To-day also, the heads of 148 railway systems will meet in New York to determine upon their acceptance or rejection of the President's plan. With the striking unions rejecting it, acceptance by the executives would not prevent the situation again being one in which the President must act.

In the meantime the effort of the Southern Railway Company to settle the strike on its lines has failed. The strikers have notified the officials of the Southern that they will not enter into any plan for adjustment until the strike is settled nationally.

The President in his latest proposition to the railroads and the striking shopmen has found the "safe and sane position of fairness and conservatism." Chairman Ben Hopper, of the United States Railway Labor Board, so announced yesterday.

On many railroads, he said, the plan can be carried out without any inconvenience. Over 75,000 shopmen had been laid off before the strike, the statement adds, and with the increased work now available so many men will be needed that "on a very large number of roads, in my judgment, the question of seniority would never arise."

GOVERNOR SAYS FORD'S PLAN IMPRACTICABLE

Gov. Morrow advised E. G. Liebold, Henry Ford's secretary, at Detroit, that conditions at Corbin are such that the Ford plan of operating the Corbin shops of the L. and N. Railroad Company and the Eastern Kentucky coal carrying lines is "thoroughly impracticable." The Governor's telegram, which was sent from his office follows:

"Find shopmen and other railroad employees at Corbin would not accept or work under offer as made by the Ford railroad. I am confident the proposition cannot be worked out at either end of the working lines and is therefore thoroughly impracticable."

Governor Morrow was at Corbin, center of a great southeastern Kentucky coal producing area and the point where the Louisville & Nashville railroad shops are located. The railroad situation at Corbin is regarded as the key to moving coal out of that section.

OWNS LARGE FACTORY

Joseph P. Endris, formerly of Paris, is now owner of the largest cigar factory in Charleston, Ill., where he has resided many years. Mr. Endris married Miss Josephine Alexander, of Paris, a former member of the Paris High School faculty, and a niece of Mrs. W. H. Anderson and Hugh Alexander, both of Paris. Mr. Endris' establishment was recently visited by a representative of the Government, who compliments Mr. Endris on the success he had made of his business. The industry has manufactured and disposed of 463,000 cigars in the past year, for which Mr. Endris paid to the internal revenue department of the Government almost $3,000 in taxes.

JAIL DELIVERY PREVENTED

Nelson Porter, colored, confined in the Paris jail on a charge of stealing roasting ears from the corn field of Robt. Meteer, near Hutchison, made an unsuccessful attempt to escape from jail by the old familiar method with which prisoners have now become acquainted. Porter rolled his bed clothes into a bundle and set them on fire at the base of one of the partitions in the window. Jailer Taylor scented the smoke in time to investigate. Porter was removed to another cell and put in shackles. He had been recently held to the grand jury by Acting Judge Denis Dundon.

GETTING READY FOR "BOOSTER DAY TRIP"

Secretary Harold Harris is in receipt of a telephone message announcing that the ladies of the Presbyterian church at Millersburg will serve the dinner to the Bourbon Boosters on August 30. This is sufficient to assure those who are fortunate enough to be present on that occasion a real old-fashioned dinner. Weather permitting the covers will be laid outdoors in one of the many delightfully shaded grass plots.

Director Kidd, of the Odd Fellows' Boys' Band, informed Secretary Harris that the boys had begun already on an entirely new musical program for the Booster Day.

To date about seventy merchants have signed up to accompany the Boosters, and it is expected to add about fifty more to that number. Anyone who did not sign with the Finance Committee may join the Boosters by making their intention known to any member of this committee or Secretary Harris.

Many cars will be needed, and anyone who cares to volunteer the use of their car for that day will please notify Mr. W. O. Hinton, Chairman of Transportation Committee.

BOURBON GUN CLUB

Twenty-nine shooters were out Wednesday facing the traps and enjoying the afternoon's sport. A nice crowd of visitors was present. The trophy, a handsome smoking set, donated by Shire & Fithian, was won by Amos Turney, with the good score of 99 out of a 100. On Labor Day, September 4, at Hill Top we will have an all-day shoot. This is known as the Blue Grass Championship Shoot, and is registered. Alfred Clay has been having this shoot regularly on this date for several years. Scores:

FAMOUS NOVEL NOW ON THE SCREEN

Stewart Edward White's "The Gray Dawn," when first published in a weekly magazine, created considerable talk in Pacific Coast circles. Since it is based on early San Francisco happenings.

"The Gray Dawn" will now be visualized as well as read for Benjamin B. Hampton has adapted the famous novel for the screen, which will be the feature attraction at The Alamo and The Grand Saturday afternoon and night. The story of "The Gray Dawn" has to do with early times in California, and particularly with pioneer residents of San Francisco, who made history in ways that would not be considered entirely proper today, which may account for the book causing a furore among the citizens of the Golden State.

The photoplay is set against San Francisco's romantic background and vividly portrays the colorful history of the then budding metropolis in the period just following the days of the gold rush of '49. Mr. Hampton's screen version of the novel depicts faithfully the life of the great West of that decade.

STATE WILL GET PRIORITY ON COAL

Governor Morrow Tuesday gave out the following statement: "The people of Kentucky need feel no fear of the coal shortage, as it is the intention of the coal committee of Kentucky to see that Kentucky has priority in coal, and to see that ample transportation is secured from the railroads to deliver the priority fuel in the State. The general plan is that public utilities are to be cared for first, together with State institutions, then educational institutions, industrial plants manufacturing necessities and the general public."

"After Kentucky is cared for, all excess coal and excess transportation will be utilized to fill priority orders coming through the Hoover general committee. These priority orders will move only such coal from Kentucky as is not required for home consumption, nor will priority orders take coal out of the State until the necessities of the State have been fully cared for. No firm, corporation or individual will be permitted to accumulate more than a few weeks' supply of coal. This will limit all to only enough coal for current use. The committee asks assistance of all dealers, corporations and individuals in carrying out this plan."

COMMUNITY PICNIC FOR LABOR DAY

Labor Day, Monday, September 4, will be celebrated in Paris by a basket picnic, to be given in Forest Letton's woodland, on the Lexington pike, under the auspices of the Community Service and the Paris Commercial Club. The affair will be given for the mutual benefit of the citizens of Paris and Bourbon county. Music will be furnished by a first-class band. An orator of high repute will deliver an oration, and there will be all kinds of amusement stunts, games, etc., for young and old. The arrangements are rapidly being perfected for making this one of the most enjoyable picnics ever given in Paris.

General Chairman James Connell has appointed the following members of the general arrangements committee: N. Ford Brent, Will G. McClintock, Fennell Galloway, Mrs. Owen L. Daxis, Mrs. James Metcalfe and Dr. D. S. Henry.

DRILLER STRIKES SULPHUR WATER

W. K. Kearney, well driller, of Versailles, who has been operating extensively through Bourbon county in the past three months, struck a fine vein of sulphur water, while drilling on the farm of T. F. Christy, on the Jacktown pike, near Paris. The drill penetrated the limestone and the dark limestone layer to a depth of 117 feet, at which depth the sulphur water came in. The water stands at present thirty-two feet in the well, and is pronounced by those who have visited the place as superior to anything of the kind yet struck in this county. Some time ago while sinking a well on the farm of E. F. Prichard, near Paris, a fine flow of water very closely resembling the Crab Orchard product, was struck.

Mr. Kearney says this is the most peculiar section of the State he has ever worked in, and in view of the present drought he is at a loss to account for conditions that have presented themselves in some parts of the county.

FORMER LEXINGTON WOMAN CERTAIN FOR CONGRESS

Mrs. Louella St. Clair Moss, who was president of Hamilton College, in Lexington, from 1903 to 1909, seems practically certain to be the third woman to sit in Congress, as she was nominated on the Democratic ticket in the Eighth Missouri district, which is practically equivalent to election, it is said. Mrs. Moss, if elected, will share attention in the House of Representatives with Miss Alice Robertson, of Oklahoma, who was renominated. Miss Jeanette Rankin, of Montana, the first woman to sit in Congress, served but one term. Mrs. Moss is now president of Christian College, Columbia, Mo.

A clever young man from Kentucky Disputed the road with a truck. Then he said: "May I beg That you hand me my leg? It might be sewed on, with good luck."

An office that one didn't get is about the poorest investment the average politician makes. If you miss as off well you sometimes have the rig.

Why shouldn't fright cure a cripple, when an unusually short skirt on a shapely flapper has been known to cure blindness, even here in the good little city of Paris, Ky.?

The Literary Digest should have added one more classification to its list. It should have sought to tabulate those who are in favor of prohibition so long as its penalties applies to someone else.

A Stanford man narrowly missed death when "attempting to open an old rifle not believed to be loaded." It's risky enough nowadays to open a bottle at the top, not knowing how it is loaded, but why open a rifle at the other end?

In Paris we used to fondly fancy that an Anglo-Saxon population with high traditions of curiosity could be trusted not to run down pedestrians, but with the advent of the automobile the dominant strain seemed to become Poland-China.

An ordinary honest man is one who does not want to do anything that will land him in jail. An extraordinary honest man is one who doesn't wish to hide his welfare under a bushel of false statements when making a report to the assessor.

According to a Harlan dispatch a man at Dillon was engaged in shooting a man in the back when another man began shooting the shooter in the side. Both projects were entirely successful. If the third factor in the affair has common American luck he will succeed with the jury without firing a shot.

The Kentucky Standard, published at Bardstown, asserts that Nelson county automobilists drive slowly and carefully and have few accidents. Seems to us that upon that information residence property should advance in Bardstown, where courtesy and common sense survive in an age of piggishness and speed mania.

Thornwell Tadlock was standing in front of the Ball Garage the other afternoon admiring the lines of handsome Buick cars, when a red-faced, puffing Irishman came up and calling him to one side, said: "Say, Tad, I want to get a fast-class automobile for me, wife, you know, the old lady that rules the roost." "Wishing to encourage his prospective customer, Tadlock said, as a matter of business, to ascertain the customer's preference, "Long body?" "E—l, so, man!" responded his friend. "The old lady's built like a barrel, you know—but whut's that got to do with it anyway?" Then Tadlock hastened to explain.

A Lexington school teacher who sent a girl pupil home for wearing knickerbockers to school is quoted as saying that it would be all right for ten girls to wear them. The upper ten, for instance?

A Kentucky attorney declared in court that the law supposes no man a bootlegger until it catches him with the goods. As Mr. Bumble remarked, "If the law supposes that the law is an ass, an idiot."

Paris bachelor says: "Equality, accepted in principle, has not yet become established. A man still thinks of himself as accomplished if he knows how to order a good meal, and believes no woman accomplished who does not know how to cook one."

Once upon a time Geraldine Farrar remarked that "Grand Dukes aren't worth a darn," and now Ganna Walska, another opera singer, who is reported to be engaged to Harold McCormick, exclaims: "Darn the reporters." Thus it will be seen that, while the road may be long and the climbing hard, an humble newspaper man may attain to a status superior to a Grand Duke.

A sharp controversy has broken out in Paris, (Ky.) as to whether the members of the Paris baseball club of the Bluegrass League are playing on the square, or on the diamond. At any rate, what they need is a good prodding to remind some of their ardent defenders that they are mere men and not gods or social ornaments. How can Paris be expected to adjust its other difficulties until this problem is solved?

NEWBERRY AND NEWBERRITES

Two of the men who voted to retain Truman H. Newberry from Michigan in a purchased seat in the Senate have already been eliminated from that body—Harry S. New, of Indiana and Porter J. McCumber, of North Dakota. Others like Galder, of New York, France, of Maryland, Freilinghuysen, of New Jersey, Kellogg, of Minnesota, and Townsend, of Michigan, are on their way to the eliminator, with good prospects that there will be several others after November.

With New and McCumber defeated and with the people's headsman stalking behind the other Senatorial Newberrites, who are up for reelection, the beneficiary of all this treachery to the public interests and the Republican party, Senator Newberry himself sits smilingly and comfortably in his seat in the Senate Chamber with the assurance of several more years of political life, or until the new Senators elected this fall meet in the next regular session, when it is highly probable that the word Newberry will become synonymous with raspberry.

HITCHCOCK, FAITHFUL SENATOR RENOMINATED

The renomination of United States Senator Gilbert M. Hitchcock, of Nebraska, by an overwhelming plurality is a fine tribute to that able, outstanding, progressive Democratic Senator and the best assurance that his State and the Nation at Washington are fully appreciated at home. His vast experience and knowledge of legislation coupled with his qualities of leadership assures Nebraska a prominent and enviable place in national affairs as long as he remains in the Senate.

While the Republicans are repudiating and discarding Senators who have served only the reactionary element of their party here at the expense of the country, the renomination of Senator Hitchcock by such a great vote as he received is a refreshing contrast, and shows that the people are willing and anxious to reward faithful service to their interests instead of to their enemies.

CHEAP CARS BENEFIT UNDER NEW AUTO LAW

Kentucky will get an increase revenue from automobile licenses next year, the fees on the heavier and more expensive cars being raised slightly, while those on the lighter and less expensive machines are reduced, officials believe, under a law passed by the last session of the General Assembly. The State will lose approximately $60,000 in revenue on Fords alone, or about $1 for each type it is figured, but the new horsepower hundred weight law will result in increases on other cars which will more than make up the $60,000. The new law provides 25 cents per horsepower, as well as 25 cents for each hundred weight of the car. The measure, when introduced in the Legislature, was opposed by the Legislative Automobile Club on the ground that it would cause confusion and also that it increase automobile taxation as a whole. Under the old law, which taxed cars according to horsepower only, it often happened that expensive machines with a low horsepower rating were taxed less than cheaper and lighter machines.

ESTHER SAVES HER PEOPLE

LESSON TEXT—Esther 3:1-9:22.
GOLDEN TEXT—The righteous cry, and the Lord heareth, and delivereth them out of all their trouble.—Psalm 34:7.
REFERENCE MATERIAL—Matt. 20:28; Rom. 5:4-10; 12:1, 2.

PRIMARY TOPIC—A Brave Young Queen.
JUNIOR TOPIC—Esther, the Brave Queen.
INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—A Heroine Worthy of Imitation.
YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Rendering Sacrificial Service.

1. Haman's Wicked Plot Against the Jews (3:1-4:3).

1. The occasion of (ch. 3). Mordecai refused to bow down to Haman whom the king had elevated to the place of prime minister and commanded that reverence should be shown him by all the princes and servants. In order to get rid of Mordecai Haman formulated a scheme and secured the king's endorsement to destroy all the Jews.

2. Fasting and mourning among the Jews (4:1-3). In their distress they sought the Lord. They did that which all those who believe in God had a right to do (Jas. 5:13).

3. Haman Checkmated (4:4-7:10). 1. Plot made known to Esther (vv. 4-8). Mordecai appeared before the king's gate clothed in sackcloth. This condition was reported to Esther by her maids and chamberlains. Upon her refusal to put away mourning Esther sent Hatach, her special attendant, to find out the cause of it.

2. Message to Esther (v. 8). This was in the form of a charge that she go unto the king and make request for her people.

3. Esther's hesitancy (vv. 9-12). This was on the ground of a certain law which made it a capital offense for anyone to come into the king's presence unbidden unless the king should extend clemency by holding out the golden scepter. The fact that Esther had not been called to come in for thirty days would seem that the queen was in disfavor.

4. Mordecai presses her obligation (vv. 14, 15). (1) Her own life was involved (v. 13). She might meet death if she went to the king unbidden, but most certainly she would meet death if she made no effort to avert the danger. Being in the king's house would not save her, for the decree had been made against the race of which she was a part. Her silence on this occasion would mean death. (2) She was not God's last resort (v. 14). He argues that deliverance would come from another source. God's work goes on and His purposes are fulfilled regardless of the decisions of men. (3) Reminds her that she had probably been raised up for this very work (v. 14). Every one has been born and prepared for some definite work. God's providence brings us into the particular circumstances where we can most definitely do His will.

5. Esther meets the call of duty (4:15-5:3). (1) Preparation by fasting (v. 16). She instructed Mordecai to gather together all the Jews in Shushan and fast for her for three days and nights. She with her maids did the same. (2) Went into the presence of the king (5:1-3). Having made the decision to do her duty regardless of consequences, after due preparation by fasting and prayer, she presented herself in royal apparel in the presence of the king. She decided that the best thing she could do was to lay her life on the altar. "If I perish, I perish" ought to be our watchword when face to face with duty. (3) King's promise to Esther (v. 3). He assured her that her desire would be granted even to the half of his kingdom.

6. Haman hanged (5:4-7:10). Esther was shrewd as well as courageous. She invited the king and his prime minister to a banquet. At this banquet she proposed another for the following day, at which time she promised to make known to the king her request. Haman went home jubilant, but that night something occurred which turned the tide. The king discovered that no reward had been granted Mordecai for having saved his life. Haman is compelled to exile Mordecai, and at the second feast the queen revealed his wicked treachery and he is ordered hanged on the gallows which he had prepared for Mordecai.

7. The Jews Delivered (chs. 8, 9). Haman was dead, but the decree against the Jews still stood. Esther pleaded that it be reversed. While it could not be reversed, through her influence another decree was sent out which in a large measure counteracted the first. The Jews everywhere were granted the privilege to defend themselves and destroy their enemies.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO PATRONS OF POSTOFFICE

Postmasters all over the country are being warned by the Postoffice Department at Washington against certain practices indulged in by patrons of the office, against the rule and regulations of the service. Postmaster J. Walter Payne has asked THE NEWS to give publicity to the following, which embodies the meat of the matter, as taken from the official circulars from the Postoffice Department:

"Complaints continue to be received that some postmasters accept parcels to be sent C. O. D., bearing labels which state that the parcels may be examined before delivery and payment of the C. O. D. charges, notwithstanding that this has been prohibited from the beginning of the C. O. D. service. In connection with this complaint it has been reported to the Department that certain firms or individuals advertise to prospective patrons that their merchandise may be sent by mail, C. O. D., with the privilege of examination before acceptance and the payment of the C. O. D. charges. Parcels bearing labels making this misstatement should not be accepted for mailing. Postmasters are required to report any parcels coming within their notice bearing labels making this misstatement, furnishing a description of the parcels; also to report the names of any firms or individuals using such labels or advertising in any newspaper or periodical that the Postoffice Department will permit examination of the contents of any C. O. D. parcel to be made before delivery of the parcels and the payment of the C. O. D. charges by the addressee. They are also required to furnish a copy of the label or advertisements and the name and date of the publication in which they appear."

"Judging from the numerous reports reaching the Department concerning the placing of illegal inclosures in parcels mailed at the fourth class rate of postage, it is evident that postmasters are not exercising proper precautions to stop the practice and prevent the loss of revenue resulting therefrom, as well as the annoyance and inconvenience to which the addressees are subjected on account of being called upon to pay the deficient postage in those instances where the irregularities are discovered. . . . These illegal inclosures consist of instructions for making clothes, repairs to be made to articles such as hats, fountain pens, jewelry, etc., directions as to the development and printing of photographic films, unauthorized additions to invoices, etc. It has also been found that in some instances illegal inclosures are placed in sealed parcels mailed at fourth class rates of postage. . . . All concerned are cautioned to be more careful in this respect and keep on the lookout for such violations. The attention of patrons should be called to the provisions of the Postal Rules which set forth the permissible additions to and inclosures with fourth class matter, and patrons should be advised that when they desire to send with a parcel of fourth class matter a communication, instructions, or other written matter not constituting a permissible addition or inclosure under the law, this may be done by placing the communication or other matter in an envelope prepaid at the first-class rate."

CAPITAL NOTES LAW OF SUPPLY AND DEMAND

Economists and statisticians in the Nation's Capital are pointing out an odd example of the working of the law of supply and demand. So vast are the forces involved in the operation of the law that it is not usually easy to see them except in the perspective of much elapsed time. But the result of the strikes has contracted this period so that the entire operation can be seen in a single example. Lack of coal in this country has caused a sudden demand upon British coal mines, which in turn caused a sudden rush for ships to carry the coal to the United States. The immediate result has been an increase in ocean freight rates from England to the United States amounting to a hundred and fifty per cent, or from seven to seventeen shillings a ton. A ship's journey is there and back. The unusual amount of freight space available for the return journey has caused a great drop in freight rates for the transportation of grain from the United States to Europe which has been aided by the inability of American railroads to move grain deliveries at shipping ports, due, of course, to railroad strike. In England, much coal, a demand from America, and insufficient ships send freight rates up. In America, too many ships and a scarcity of cargoes and freight rates down 11½, with the prospect of going to 10 cents, which figure is much below pre-war minimum.

STRANGE NEWS ITEMS FROM THE DAILY PRESS

A man in London tried to hang himself. He was a poor hand at it, but he died just the same. The doctor testified that there was no sign of death by strangulation, so the Coroner duly brought in a verdict of "suicide by auto-suggestion," the first of its kind on record. The theory is that the man deluded he was hanging himself, because he had a handkerchief looped over the bed post and about his neck, and that the conviction that he was being strangled succeeded in killing him. It is not thought that killing one's self by thinking one is dead will become popular!

London also is responsible for the story of William Skinner, a sailor, who lost his life in the battle of Jutland. When his body was recovered the usual brass identification disc was taken from his neck. On the reverse of it, in words so fine they require a microscope for reading, is his will, leaving his all to his wife. This, the smallest and most unique will in the annals of law, has just been admitted to probate in the London courts.

The first aerial stowaway has safely made his flight. One, Mike Stone, of Detroit, concealed himself in the mail compartment of the aeromarine eleven-passenger plane flying regularly from Detroit to Cleveland, went to sleep, and woke up when the motors roared. He couldn't make his presence known until the motors stopped, across the lake in Cleveland.

In Northern Montana, near Glacier National Park, is a colony of a million marmosets. These little animals make a curious noise, something between a yelp and a whistle. It is proposed to broadcast their chorus via radio, that wireless "fans" of America may hear the largest aggregation of animal voices in the world tuning up in a natural symphony.

KENTUCKY CLUB AT CHAUTAUQUA

At a meeting on July 24 of the Kentucky Club of Lake Chautauqua, N. Y., there were eighty members present. The object of the club is to send each year a Kentucky girl to Chautauqua, giving her a scholarship. At this meeting a vote was passed to send a young girl from the Eastern Kentucky mountains. Mrs. Blakemore is president of the club and Mrs. Emma Graves Price, secretary and treasurer.

A MISTAKEN IMPRESSION

In a list published in many papers of names of stockholders of the Bourbon Oil & Development Company who have been called upon by the Receiver to return the dividends paid them, the names of Mr. and Mrs. James Moreland, of Paris, were given.

Mr. and Mrs. Moreland were listed as having $600 each. This, they say, is a mistake, as the checks for their dividends have never been cashed.

BRIGHTER EVENINGS

Just History

In 78
The Colonial Dame
Spun her cloth
By Candle flame.

In 1860
In Crinoline bright,
She greeted her guests
By Coal Oil light.

And later on,
How time does pass
Her home was lit
By flickering Gas.

But the girl of to-day
Who wants her home bright,
Just presses a button
And has Electric light.

TO ABANDON CAMP KNOX

Troop movements from Camp Henry Knox, preparatory to the eventual abandonment of approximately two-thirds of the reservation will begin October 1, according to official plans for the military hieira, announced at the camp.

Recommendations of a board of high army officials upon which action of the war department will largely depend have been made, and urge the abandonment of all but one brigade area of the camp. This does not mean that the government will sell any of the property. On the contrary the camp acreage will be held intact and only the buildings on the abandonment territory will be locked and sealed.

At a conference held by General George W. Read, commanding the fifth corps area, and Brigadier General Dwight E. Aultman, commander of Camp Knox, it was decided to march all the units now on the reservation to their future stations.

HOW IT ALWAYS ENDS

It seems as if the old farmer was right after all.

The story was told at the White House the other day, and it was particularly fitting that it should be told there at the time.

Naturally, the twin strikes were the subject of conversation. And they recalled the story of the old farmer.

After a particularly wet spell the son of the soil was asked by a stranger in his midst: "Do you think it's ever going to stop raining?" "Well," drawled the old farmer, "it always has."

Meaning that when anyone asked at the White House if the strikes would be settled they got the confident reply that "they always have been."

L. & N. FREIGHT DEPOT BURNED AT KNOVILLE

Fire of unknown origin Sunday destroyed the freight station of the Louisville & Nashville Railroad and twenty empty box cars in the yards. The loss is estimated at $500,000.

William C. Boome, Deputy State Fire Commissioner, declared that he believed the fire to be of incendiary origin. He said an investigation would be started.

Firemen were handicapped because of low water pressure, due to a misunderstanding of orders.

LEASES GEORGETOWN OPERA HOUSE

The Georgetown opera house has been leased by Harrison Scott, the present operator, for a period of five years. When Mr. Scott went to Georgetown from Lexington he only leased the building for a period of one year, but has made the five year lease and will offer first-class attractions to the community. Mr. Scott is a prominent man in theatricals in the State and was connected with the opera house at Lexington before going to Georgetown.

THE BOURBON NEWS,

SPORTING WRITER PRAISES BOURBON HORSEMAN

Writing in the Louisville Times of recent date under the nom de plume "Cedric," a prominent sporting writer gives the following estimate of Omar Khayyam and his produce, from the Claiborne Farm of Arthur B. Hancock, near Paris:

"The Ascot of America from a racegoer's point of view and the Newmarket from a thoroughbred breeder's outlook is the August Saratoga meeting. Here East meets West and the keenest rivalry is displayed both on the race track and in the sale ring. Every champion has his day on the tracks and new champions are always turning up unexpectedly at this meeting, but in the sale ring the prestige of the Kentucky thoroughbred, and especially of the world renowned 'Bluegrass' raising, has reigned supreme from time immemorial. And, rightly so, for no stretch of country produces such magnificent specimens of 'Babes of the Turf,' as does Kentucky. Moreover, nowhere in the world will one find in one area as large as this State more money expended nor more noted breeders and owners engaged in the horse breeding industry.

"Fashion, which is fickle, and public opinion, which if anything is still more fickle, decree that certain stock should bring bigger prices than other stock and it is very difficult for a breeder to offer for sale for successive years the class of stock that will continuously sell well. However, it can be said with safety, judging by past results, that Arthur B. Hancock, of Paris, Ky., has established a reputation for always producing the 'goods' and although he also has a breeding establishment in Virginia, he is looked upon as one of the leading breeders of Kentucky.

"Believing strongly in the continual introduction of the best of imported blood to cross with the mares and sires of the States, Mr. Hancock has carried out this principle fully and this accounts in no small degree for his remarkable success in the breeding world. Always in first-class condition, his yearlings stand out on this account and because of their superlative breeding and the quality they display. This year's youngsters which were shipped to the Saratoga sales, are no exception to this rule unless it may be said of the Omar Khayyams that no one stallion ever produced a better looking first crop.

"Omar Khayyam represents in America what Captain Cuttle does in England, as they both are Derby winners and both are descendants of the famous Matchem line of thoroughbreds, going back to the Godolphin Arabian. Omar Khayyam is a son of Marco, who, through the unbeaten Irish-bred Baracaldine, is a grandson of Solon and thus back to West Australian and Melbourne. Captain Cuttle, this year's English Derby winner, is a great grandson of Marco."

RELICS FOR PIONEER DAYS FOR STATE FAIR.

Relics of pioneer days of Kentucky are being rapidly gathered for the Old Kentucky Home exhibit at the Kentucky State Fair, the latest pieces of historical furniture to be acquired being a sideboard owned by Simon Kenton's sister and a chair from the home of Governor Isaac Shelby. These articles were in active service during the period between 1780 and 1810, and were found by Mrs. Samuel G. Boyle, of Louisville, who has been commissioned by W. C. Hanna and his associates on the State Fair Board, to furnish the building.

The funds for the construction were donated by the Kentucky Jockey Club. The building now nearing completion, depicts the typical log mansion, such as dotted the countryside of Kentucky about the year 1790 and rapidly increasing in number during the next decade. The model for the log mansion being built at the fair grounds is still standing in Green county in an excellent state of preservation despite its 135 years. The house is a two-story structure consisting of a parlor, sitting room, dining room on the first floor connected with the kitchen by an open porch or "dog trot," as it was called in the quaint language of that day.

HEREFORDS VS. SHORTHORNS

For many years the Shorthorns held undisputed sway in Kentucky, but now the Herefords vie with them for beef cattle supremacy. The State is recognized leader in the breeding of the two types of beef cattle, and royally bred specimens bring honors to Kentucky in world competition in the show rings.

Some years ago an effort was made to introduce and popularize another beef breed, the Aberdeen Angus, or "black cattle," as they sometimes are called. Their success, however, has not kept pace with the Shorthorns and Herefords, which have made the State famous in beef cattle animals.

Around the San Juan River, in Columbia, is located the greatest platinum field yet discovered.

The first lunacy laws in England were made in the reign of Edward III.

MASTER'S SALE

BOURBON CIRCUIT COURT

Mrs. Lizzie Brown... Plaintiff
Vs.—Notice of Sale.

Elizabeth K. Brown, Etc. Defendants

Under and by virtue of a judgment and order of sale rendered at the June term of the Bourbon Circuit Court, in the above styled action therein pending, the undersigned Master Commissioner, on at the front door of the court house, in Paris, Bourbon County, Kentucky, at about the hour of 11 o'clock a. m., will sell at public auction to the highest and best bidder, the following described property:

Lot No. 1, fronts 50 feet on Winchester Street, and extends back southward the same width 200 feet, and is described thus:

Beginning at the western corner of Burnett's lot on Winchester street, and running westwardly with Winchester street 50 feet; thence in a southerly direction 200 feet; thence easterly to Burnett's line 50 ft.; thence along Burnett's line 200 ft. more or less, to the point of beginning, making a lot 50 feet front and 200 feet deep adjoining Burnett on the east, and lot No. 2 herein on the west and south and having a dwelling and other improvements thereon.

Lot No. 2, fronts 50 feet on Winchester street, and is described as follows.

Beginning on Winchester street at western corner of lot No. 1, and running thence along Winchester street in a westerly direction 50 feet to line of Harris & Speakes; thence with their line and Minogue's line in a southerly direction 568 feet, more or less; thence in an easterly direction 100 feet; thence in a northerly direction 342 feet, to southwest corner of lot No. 1, and where lot No. 1 and Burnett's lot corner; thence with the rear line of southern line of lot No. 1, 50 feet in a westerly direction; thence with the western line of lot No. 1 to Winchester street, 200 feet, more or less, to the point of beginning.

A passway beginning at Winchester street, and running along the line between lots No. 1 and 2 a distance of 80 feet and 8 feet wide is reserved for the use of lots 1 and 2. The 8 feet of width consists of a strip 4 feet wide off of lot No. 1, running along its western line a distance of 80 feet from Winchester street, south, and the remaining 4 feet consists of a strip of land 4 feet wide off of lot No. 2, running from Winchester street along the western line of lot No. 1 80 feet, the passway thus occupying two adjoining strips of ground each four feet wide taken off of lots 1 and 2 respectively, along the western line of lot No. 1 from Winchester street, in a southerly direction 80 feet.

Said sale will be made upon credits of six and twelve months, the purchaser or purchasers being required to execute their two bonds with good and approved surety, for equal parts of the purchase money, each due six and twelve months from date of sale respectively and bearing interest at the rate of six per cent (6%) per annum from date of sale until paid, said bonds to have the force and effect of judgments. The two lots above described will be sold separately.

Said sale is made for the purpose of reinvestment.

RELIGIOUS

A Resume of Events In Religious Circles For Present and Future

—(The ministers of the churches in Paris and the county are requested to send THE NEWS by noon on Thursday of each week their church notices for publication in Friday's NEWS. It is the earnest desire of THE NEWS to publish the announcements of the city and county churches, and the co-operation of the pastors is urged. We want to make our religious column complete and up-to-date.)—Ed.

—Rev. F. M. Tinder, pastor of the North Middletown Christian church, is conducting a two-weeks' revival meeting at the Owensville Christian church, beginning last Monday night.

—Rev. G. W. Nutter, pastor of the Millersburg Christian church, is conducting a revival meeting at the Jackstown church, beginning last Sunday. Services are held at 7:45.

—Rev. W. E. Ellis will conduct the services at the Paris Christian church Sunday morning at 10:45, and at 7:30 in the evening. The pastor will discuss at the morning service, "Paying Our Debt To Barton Stone." The evening hour will be an evangelistic service. Good singing. All cordially invited.

—Rev. C. C. Jarrell, who held the revival meeting at the Methodist church last February, will occupy the pulpit of that church next Sunday at 10:45 a. m. Dr. Jarrell will be welcomed to Paris by a large number of friends made while here last winter. The Sunday school will meet at 9:30 a. m. and the Epworth League will hold its session at 6:45 p. m. There will be no preaching at night.

—The Rev. T. L. Hulse, of Henderson, Ky., has been elected to succeed the Rev. W. E. Arnold as editor of the Central Methodist, the official organ of the Kentucky and Louisville Conferences of the Methodist church. The Rev. Mr. Hulse is presiding elder of the Henderson district. He will take charge of the publication about September 20. The Rev. Mr. Arnold will accept an appointment in the Kentucky conference.

—The standard training school for Christian workers held its first session of the year Monday in Winchester, with an enrollment of 62. This school is being held at Kentucky Wesleyan College for Christian workers from the eastern part of the State. Out of town students are being taken care of at the Wesleyan dormitories. Bishop U. V. Darlington is lecturing every night at 7:30 and the public is invited to attend these lectures. Dennis V. Snapp, of Paris, is in charge of the enrollment and registry bureau for the meeting.

—The Rose Hill church, in this county, has been completed and the formal dedication services will be held Sunday, August 13, at eleven o'clock, a. m. Rev. J. R. Redd, former Presiding Elder of this district, and at present pastor of the Harrodsburg church, will have charge of the dedicatory services. There will be services in the morning, afternoon and evening, with a basket dinner served on the grounds at the noon hour. On Monday night, August 7, a revival meeting will begin at the church, which will continue every night until further notice, and the day services will be announced later.

GRASS SEED INDUSTRY

The grass seed is a large industry in Kentucky, and adds to the agricultural importance of the State. The growing of bluegrass and orchard grass seed in the limited area devoted to the production, and the business represents a large financial proposition.

The bluegrass seed industry is confined to a few counties in Central Kentucky, Bourbon county being the largest producer. Orchard grass is grown principally in Henry, Oldham, Shelby and a few other counties in the same locality. Besides being shipped to all parts of the United States, much of the seed is exported to foreign countries. The grass seed crop is a big agricultural item in the localities devoted to its raising, and has led to co-operative associations of the growers for its marketing.

THE PRIMARIES A JOKE

The primary election system for making nominations in boundaries larger than the county demonstrated its inefficiency to a remarkable degree last Saturday. In no county or district in the State, probably, was a full vote cast. A very small minority of the voters named the candidates for Congress in many of the districts. There was absolutely no interest, except in one or two districts, and in the race for Judge of the Court of Appeals in Judge Hurt's old district.

It would be the sheerest folly to think of attempting to name the Democratic ticket for the State offices next year in a primary. A good old-fashioned convention would do more to put pep in the party than anything we can think of.

MATRIMONIAL

A Record of Dan Capid's Doings As The Days Go By

HART—COLLINS

—Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Hart, of Stoner avenue, announce the marriage of their daughter, Miss Lucile Beaton Hart, to Mr. Thomas Talbott Collins, of Paris, on Thursday, August 10 at the home on Stoner avenue.

MUSSER—COBB

—James H. Cobb, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Cobb, and Miss Martha Musser, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Musser, both of Cynthiana, motored to Paris and were married at the home of the officiating minister, Rev. W. E. Ellis, pastor of the Paris Christian church. They both gave their ages as twenty-one, but on account of the youthful appearance of the bride, Rev. Ellis refused to perform the ceremony until after communicating with the bride's parents at Cynthiana and obtaining their consent.

Unknown to the youthful couple a number of their friends followed them to Paris, and during the performance of the ceremony decorated the groom's auto with a variety of placards bearing appropriate inscriptions and a lot of decorations composed of tinware offerings. Following the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Cobb left for a short wedding trip. On their return they will go to housekeeping in Cynthiana. The bride is a handsome young woman with a large circle of friends in Paris, where she has often visited.

STIVERS—OWENS

—One of the surprise weddings of the season was that which took place in this city, Wednesday morning, at the home of the officiating minister, Rev. W. E. Ellis, pastor of the Paris Christian church, the principals being Miss Edith Stivers, of Paris, and Prof. Anderson Duguid Owens, of Newport. The wedding was a quiet affair, attended only by members of the family and a few intimate friends of the bride.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Hooker Stivers, of Paris, a graduate of the Paris High School, and of the University of Kentucky. Since her graduation she has been teaching, first in Newport, later at Ashland, and for the past two years member of the Paris High School faculty. She is considered one of the most efficient teachers in Central Kentucky, and is possessed of a personality that has endeared her to a wide circle of friends.

Prof. Owens is a graduate of the Transylvania College and a member of the Kappa Alpha fraternity. He served as lieutenant at Camp Gordon, Ga., during the world war, and for a number of years has been connected with the public schools of Newport. At the beginning of the next school term he will assume the duties of Superintendent of the Public schools as Springfield, Ky.

Following the ceremony and receiving congratulations from friends and relatives Prof. and Mrs. Owens left for a short wedding tour. After a visit to relatives they will be at home to their friends in their new home at Springfield.

HOBART BOSWORTH, IN "WHITE HANDS," MONDAY

A woman alone in a nest of crime on the edge of the Sahara is the theme of the soul-stirring tale of adventure in which Hobart Bosworth will make his appearance in "White Hands" at the Alamo and Grand Monday afternoon and evening.

The story is from the pen of C. Gardner Sullivan, dean of American scenario writers, and gives the star a wide scope for the virile, red-blooded acting that has endeared him to millions of movie-fans throughout the country. The photoplay abounds in thrills and tense situations, for it has to do with a ruthless sea captain, "Hurricane Hardy," and his journey into the Great Sahara in search of treasure. Mr. Bosworth is supported by an able cast which includes Robert McKim, Elinor Fair, Baby Muriel Frances Dana and others. The production is the first independent offering of Max Graf to the screen.

NOMAL SCHOOL ENDS

The Bourbon County Colored Normal School has closed a most successful session. There were several counties represented, and the teachers expressed themselves as being greatly benefited. The lecture staff included County School Superintendent J. M. McVey, of Paris; Pauline Bettis, of Indianapolis; C. K. Nuckols, State Worker, and Prof. Collier, of Fish University, who also gave a moving picture entertainment showing the growth of that institution. Several of the teachers were graduates of Flisk, Harvard and Columbia Universities. Prof. F. M. Wood, principal of the Western High School, was presented with a handsome brief case.

BASE BALL

YESTERDAY'S GAMES

Paris, 3; Maysville, 2.
Lexington, 5; Cynthiana, 2.
Winchester, 2; Mt. Sterling, 7.

SATURDAY'S GAMES

Paris at Mt. Sterling.
Cynthiana at Maysville.
Winchester at Lexington.

SUNDAY'S GAMES

Mt. Sterling at Paris.
Maysville at Cynthiana.
Winchester at Paris.

With perfect support the Paris team defeated Maysville by the close margin of 3 to 2. It was an unusual game, as neither team made an error. Each team got six hits and a home boy, Woods, of Paris, got 3 of the 6. With this kind of ball playing you can't keep Paris from winning the pennant. Score: Maysville . . . 0 0 0 1 0 0 1 0 0 Paris . . . 0 0 0 1 0 0 1 0 1 x Batteries—Maysville, Miner and Connelly; Paris, Blakefield and Macke. Yesterday's victory over Maysville places the Paris team in the lead, a place which all hope they will keep to the end of the season.

The Mammoths and the Winchester Dodgers will play an exhibition game at Winchester this afternoon. The game will be called promptly at three o'clock. Paris fans will go to Winchester to attend the game and lend "their moral support" to the Mammoths.

Infielder Monahan, the most recent addition to the Paris team, hails from West Virginia, where he has been playing independent ball this summer. He is a graduate of the University of West Virginia, and played on the team representing that college during the spring months.

In pitcher Powell, the Winchester team claim to have uncovered another Fred Toney, according to Manager Camnitz. Powell is six feet four inches in height, and weighs over 200 pounds. He is from near Beattyville, and came to Winchester from the Panama League. It is said his speed equals Toney's and he throws a bewildering underhand curve.

On account of three Mt. Sterling players being crippled from injuries in recent games the exhibition game scheduled for Tuesday at League Park, with the Paris team, was declared off.

President Thos. A. Russell, of the Blue Grass League, issued notice Tuesday of the following changes in the League schedule:

August 12—Maysville at Lexington, Winchester at Cynthiana, Paris at Mt. Sterling.

September 2—Lexington at Maysville.

September 21—Winchester at Cynthiana.

September 23—Maysville at Cynthiana.

October 7—Maysville at Cynthiana.

The game Tuesday between the Methodist and Baptist teams of the Church League, played on Hancock Field, Tuesday afternoon resulted in a victory for the Methodists by a score of 10 to 3. The Methodists now hold a lead of 135 points over the Christians, their nearest rival for the League leadership.

The next game in the Church League series will be played on Hancock Field, this (Friday) afternoon, at 3:30 o'clock, between the Presbyterian and Christian teams.

CHURCH LEAGUE STANDING

	Won	Lost	Pct.
Methodist	9	3	.750
Christians	8	5	.615
Presbyterians	3	8	.267
Baptists	3	8	.267

An exhibition ball game between the Paris Mammoths of the Blue Grass League and the Moorefield Regulars will be played at Moorefield next Wednesday, August 16, at 3 p. m. Frank Still, a former employee of The Mercury, who was a star twirler for the old Carlisle team several years ago, will pitch for Moorefield.

Still is at present employed on the Kentuckian-Citizen, in Paris. In his off moments he is putting in strenuous practice and getting his arm in shape to twirl terrifying twisters to the Mammoths. Let's all go!

INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSONS

Beginning with this issue THE NEWS will publish each Friday a column review of the International Sunday School Lessons, prepared by Rev. P. B. Fitzwater, D. D. L. D., Teacher of English Bible in the Moody Bible Institute in Chicago. This article will be found on page two of this issue.

These lessons are prepared with the greatest care, and will be found to be of invaluable service to Bible students in Sunday school classes. They present the most important phases of the lesson to be used in Sunday schools of the day.

"TRIP TO PARADISE," ALAMO AND GRAND

Bert Lytell, starring in the Maxwell Karger production for Metro of "A Trip to Paradise," at the Alamo and Grand this afternoon and night. It is supported by a notable company. Virginia Valli, has the leading woman's role. Brinsley Shaw enacts the part of Mr. Meek, a clever crook who is to be found in an amusement park where the locale of the story is laid. Victory Bateman, who enacted an important role in support of Viola Dana in "Blackmail," also has an important part in "A Trip to Paradise." Unice Vin Moore, the character actress, appears as the Widow Boland, who runs a Coney Island roller coaster.

"A Trip to Paradise" is an adaptation by Benjamin F. Glazer of a Franz Molnar's drama. The scenario is by June Mathis.

CENTENARIAN CLAIMED PARIS HER BIRTHPLACE

(Cincinnati Times-Star)

"Funeral services for Mrs. Easter Earley, colored centenarian who died Saturday, will be held at the Bethel Baptist church, Ains place, Wednesday morning. Mrs. Earley always claimed she was born at Paris, Ky., in 1820, and could recall stirring days during the Civil War, and also had a full recollection of some of the leading historical events of the United States. The woman had been fairly active up to the middle of last week, when her final illness developed, making it impossible for her to move around. Several grandchildren survive.

The first Presbyterian church in America was founded in 1629.

AUTOISTS MORE CAREFUL AT RAILWAY CROSSINGS

That drivers of automobiles are coming more careful is borne out by a recent check made in Kentucky by the Safety Department of the Southern Railway System.

At three different crossings on the Dixie Highway, observations were made this month with the following statistics noticed:

Number of vehicles passing over crossing, 967.

Number stopped before crossing tracks, 221.

Number where driver looked in one direction, 354.

Number where driver looked in both directions, 555.

Number where driver crossed without taking any precautions, 58.

Number crossed at speed exceeding twenty miles an hour, 28.

This check disclosed that one driver out of every four actually stopped to make sure that no trains were approaching before crossing the tracks, 57 per cent looked in both directions and 37 per cent looked in one direction before crossing tracks, while only 6 per cent failed to consider care at crossings and crossed without taking any precaution whatever.

"It takes very little of one's time to make sure that no trains are approaching before crossing railroad tracks," says a statement issued by the Southern, "and it is hoped that you, Mr. Autoist, will ever bear in mind the warning that it displayed throughout the country, 'Cross Crossings Cautiously' and never be listed as crossing tracks without taking due thought of the danger. It is by far wiser to be careful than to ignore any of the many precautions necessary."

FLORIDA HAS CHAMPION FISH STORY

(Barto, Fla., Record)

No tobaccoist ever told a lie, and so when J. A. Dalton, who has been visiting Tom Tucker, east of Lake Wales, Fla., near Templeton, tells that he saw a fish catch a bird, one believes it right away.

Dalton, who owns a cigar store at St. Petersburg, stopped to throw a line in a small pond by the way of the Templeton road. Nothing happened to his own hook, but after a cast or two he heard a commotion in the grass a few feet away. Going over to see what was the matter he found that a good-sized black bass had landed a black bird that had evidently been drinking from the pond, or, perching on the grass near the water. Just how the bass came to grab the bird Mr. Dalton did not know. He did not see that. But he did see that the bass had the bird, and when he drove it away, he found that it had so mangled the bird that it was about through with this life. Dalton killed the bird. The fish got away. A fish can catch a bird, says Mr. Dalton.

"THE COUNTRY BEYOND," NEW CURWOOD NOVEL

It's a romance that lifts you from the midst of humdrum cares and affairs, and carries you off to a balsam-scented wilderness to witness the life struggle of the most amiable rogue you'll find anywhere in fiction.

It's the story, too, of Nada, a beaten girl who had faith in a bad man. And emphatically the story of Peter, and Airdale. You will better understand the extent of an outdoors man's love for his dog when you have come to know Jolly Roger's dog Peter.

With a master hand Curwood has woven tense situations and swift adventure into this new story of his, with a result that there are wonderful hours ahead for you when you buy "The Country Beyond," superbly illustrated by Walt Louderback.

A Tip to the Wise.

It was the beginning of the second semester, and we were to have a new instructor in the English department. I rushed into the classroom and, seeing a supposed fellow student in one of the seats, said: "Well, I guess we'll have to give the old girl a good welcome this morning, but be rather dumb so she won't expect too much." In a moment the young woman began calling the roll, proving to be the instructor herself.—Chicago Tribune.

STATE HEALTH BOARD ADOPTS BREAD STANDARD

If the bakers of Kentucky, for their own protection and that of the people of the State, desire it, the Bureau of Foods, Drugs and Hotels of the State Board of Health will adopt for all bread inspections the standards of the Federal Joint Committee on Definitions, Miss Sarah H. Vance, director of the bureau, has announced.

Efforts will be made immediately to familiarize all bakers of the State with these definitions and later expressions from them will be sought to determine the advisability of their adoption.

These definitions define wheat bread or white bread as that made in the form of a loaf or rolls, or other units smaller than a loaf, by baking wheat bread dough. It must contain, one hour or more after baking, not more than 38 per cent moisture. The moisture limitation for milk bread is the same, but here there is provision for replacing not less than one-third of the water ingredient with milk or its equivalent.

In rye bread at least one-third of the wheat flour ingredient must have been replaced by rye flour. For raisin bread there is a provision that each pound of the baked product must have had added to it at least three ounces of raisins, and sweetening and shortening ingredients are permitted to be used in greater quantity than in wheat bread.

POULTRY AND EGGS MARKET REVIEW

Butter production has been heavier than during the corresponding period last year. There has been little change in prices throughout the producing sections. Demand for current consumption continues good, although some surplus is finding its way to storage.

Egg receipts are above normal and are somewhat in excess of the supply required for current use, the surplus being placed in storage. The stocks in cold storage are unusually large for this season of the year. The lower prices prevailing, if passed along to the consumer, should bring about a better demand.

Ample poultry for current use is being marketed, and as spring chickens reach the marketing age, the movement will undoubtedly increase, resulting in some decline in buying prices.

DEFINITION OF A SCAB

(Contributed)

After God had finished the rattlesnake, the toad and the vampire, He had some awful "substance" left, with which he made a "scab." A "scab" is a two-legged animal with a corkscrew soul, a water-logged brain and a combination backbone made of jelly and glue. Where other people have their hearts he carries a tumor of rotten principles. When a "scab" comes down the street honest men turn their backs, and angels in Heaven weep tears, and the devil shuts the gates of Hades to keep them out.

No man has a right to remain a "scab" as long as there is a pool of water deep enough to drown his body in, or a rope long enough to hang his carcass with. Judas Iscariot was a gentleman compared with a "scab" for after betraying his Master he had enough character to hang himself, and a "scab" has not.

AN OLD-TIME KENTUCKY CUSTOM

At one time Kentucky relied mainly upon the "warning in" system for maintenance work upon the public roads. Under this system the road overseer appointed by the County Court was empowered to "warn in" or summons every able-bodied male living along the public highway to work three days a year in keeping up the roadway.

Failure to obey the summons of the overseer and work on the road subjected the delinquent to a heavy fine and even a jail sentence. The system was operated many years, with most satisfactory results as the roads were worked by those living along and using them and therefore virtually interested in their upkeep.

BOURBON FARM CONDITIONS

The drouth condition in this county, as well as others of the Blue Grass region, has become so acute that the pastures are drying up completely, and many farmers are having to haul water from long distances for their stock, and now with the pastures dried up, corn curling and tobacco drying on the stalk, farmers are very much discouraged over the outlook.

The drouth may force a premature cutting of the tobacco crop, at least in some sections. The weed is not wholly ripe, but is drying up and some farmers believe they will profit by cutting it now rather than leaving it in the field. The crop is well advanced, and has just about reached maturity, but has been losing in quantity and quality for the past two weeks. The corn crop will be cut down to about half of what was at first expected, early in the season, unless saving rains come soon. The new potato crop is reported as being very good. Butter fresh milk and eggs are plentiful at moderate prices. Plenty of fruit and vegetables on the local market.

HOOD FREE IN KENTUCKY HILLS

Correspondents Find Quiet Sort of Men Make "Mountain Dew With Kick."

SUSPICIOUS OF STRANGERS

Continually on the Alert for Deputy Sheriffs, Revenue Agents and Prohibition Officers—Read World Magazines.

Catlettsburg, Ky.—Typical mountain moonshiners of Kentucky are not always of the gun-toting and trouble-making kind, it is proven to news correspondents by visits into the mountain region in this area of the state. The mountaineer type of moonshiner, however, is continually on the alert for deputy sheriffs, prohibition officers and revenue agents.

After a trip of thirty or forty miles into the mountains the correspondent was escorted to a moonshiner's log shack, made from the rough timber of the hillside and carefully arranged on a foundation of stone.

"Bill" greeted his visitors with a keen eye, a bit of suspicion, but with a friendly note in his shout of "welcome stranger." Proper inquiries whether any squirrels inhabited an adjacent mountain side, where a newly beaten path had been noticed, brought the answer that squirrels were scarce and none were found in the woods.

Mountain Dew Kicks.

When a friendly spirit developed some "mountain dew," or, in the language of the cities, "white mule," was produced from a small hand-made cupboard within the single room of the cabin, over which hung a religious picture and other articles of a religious nature. On the opposite side of the room over the bed of the mountaineer was a rifle of heavy caliber, an automatic pistol and a small-caliber revolver. The contrast was unique.

A small drink of the "mountain dew" almost brought slumberland in Dempsey. Inquiries as to the age of the liquor brought the answer, "That's today's stuff."

Hospitality of typical southern quality will be found among the mountaineer residents if you are a "friend"; if an enemy—beware, or, as "Bill" explained it, "snakes in the mountain are killed." "Bill" makes his farm a payable proposition for his wife and children, who were attending church at the time of the correspondent's visit, by occasionally cutting some timber.

Reads Magazines of World.

His interest in world affairs is not limited and weekly trips to the nearest postoffice furnishes him with newspapers from the "outside." These are read by one member of the family, by lamp and candle light, to the others and often last throughout the week.

The moonshiner's home from the outside has an uninviting appearance, but once within the home, while some inconveniences are found, the impression of cleanliness is produced. The low ceiling forces a man of ordinary height to stoop. The board floor may creak, but it is solid and high and dry. In winter cold winds are shut out by the mud-plaster between the cracks of logs and by the board and paper lining of the inner walls. Heat is furnished by an oil burner and cooking is done on a coal range.

Oxen teams haul coal to the home during the fall months. A yoke of oxen pulling a load of timber along the narrow mountain road explains the manner which enabled the mountaineer to obtain all the sizable logs used in constructing his home.

YOUNG JAPAN TAKES TO JAZZ

Less Modernized Nipponese, However, Frown on Western Dancing.

Tokyo, Japan.—The question whether western dances are immoral is the subject of a lively debate in the Japanese newspapers at present. In the last few years western dancing has grown popular among Japanese women, especially those who have lived abroad, although it is by no means general as yet. They dance very gracefully in their native costumes and heelless slippers, but the older and less modernized Japanese frown on the growing custom.

Goat Locked Eight Days in Car Without Water

Poplar Bluff, Mo.—And now comes the "harmless" billy goat displaying some of his unique qualifications.

When a carload of lime was loaded at Cape Girardeau, Mr. Goat, unnoticed, made his way into the car and was locked therein. Eight days after, when the seals of the car were broken at the destination, Doniphan, Mo., and when the door was opened, out jumped Mr. Goat, spry, but apparently thirsty.

He was quickly treated to a drink of "Mountain Dew," which bubbles from a spring near Doniphan, and was happy. He seemed none the worse for his "Volstead fest."

"BUSINESS REVIEW" REVIEWS BUSINESS CONDITIONS.

The monthly Business Review, published at Cleveland, Ohio, under auspices of the Federal Reserve Bank, of the Fourth Federal Reserve District, has the following regarding farming conditions in Ohio and Kentucky:

"With very few exceptions the many reports we have received on agricultural conditions are of very encouraging and hopeful nature. Wheat harvesting has been practically completed, and in many sections of the Fourth District threshing is well under way. While the yield is not high, and in some instances is below expectations, farmers quite generally feel encouraged over the returns. In marked contrast to former conditions, when the farmers were holding their wheat for larger prices, the crop this year is being marketed rapidly, and agricultural communities are paying off a part of their indebtedness.

"The corn crop at this time is reported to be looking very favorable. The acreage in Ohio is estimated to be 3 per cent greater than that of last year. The United States acreage and condition of corn in Kentucky indicates a crop of about 94,379,000 bushels compared to 82,150,000 bushels last year.

"The Burley tobacco crop is in excellent condition and the only thing that is worrying the tobacco planters is the large acreage. The crop was set out early and has grown fast and evenly. It is believed that a large part of the crop will be cut in August this year, and early cutting means good quality. Practically all of the old Burley has been sold, and it appears that the farmers are very well satisfied with the work of the marketing association, as a great many new members have been secured. Estimates of the Department of Agriculture place the 1922 tobacco acreage (all types) of Kentucky at 558,000 as compared to 385,000 acres last year, an increase of 45 per cent.

"In a special pig survey made by the Department of Agriculture, it is indicated that there will be a net increase of 14.5 per cent in the number of pigs raised in the corn belt States during the first half of 1922, compared with the first half of 1921. There is a belief that this increase may overcome the present shortage in meat."

1,202 MEMBERS JOIN BURLEY POOL

For the second time within the month previous sign-up records were broken by the Burley Tobacco Growers' Co-operative Association, the new members signed the past week totaling 1,202, representing an acreage of 14,294, according to the report of the week's activities from the offices of the association.

More than 200 growers in the Huntington, W. Va., and Eastern Ohio district, under the management of Clifton Rodes, were added the past week. Southern Ohio and Eastern Kentucky counties in which the campaign is in charge of J. N. Kehoe, of Maysville, yielded 275 more.

Hundreds of inquiries have been received by the association asking if it would sell the natural leaf in small quantities to individual buyers. So far the association has declined to dispose of any of its holdings in this way, though a number of Western Kentucky concerns have done a successful and considerable business in this way for a number of years through general advertisement.

Adoption of the policy of national advertising of the burley leaf followed success of the western fruit, prune and other co-operatives, particularly the raisin growers, who have found an outlet for a surplus each year by persistent advertising. Bush W. Allin, of Harrodsburg, and John B. Winn, of Versailles, members of the Legislative Committee, were in conference with President Stone the first of the week, but nothing was given out as to what they discussed. Work on the advertising campaign authorized by the Board of Directors at its meeting Wednesday will begin soon.

HE'LL GET FRONT SEAT IN HEAVEN

Friends claim several unique records for Rev. Ira Combs, 78, of Perry county, widely known in the mountains as "Uncle Ira." Although he has preached every Sunday and most Saturdays for half a century, with the exception of when ill, he has never accepted a penny for his services, because "against principle." He is a minister of the Primitive Baptist denomination. He is the father of 19 children, and his descendants, extending to great grandchildren, number 183.

Soft Music Aids the Girls.

Music store clerks say that grandma and grandpa keep up to date with the jazz and the syncopated stuff. It is the sixteen-year-old granddaughter who plays "When You and I Were Young, Maggie," on the phonograph for her beau, and gazes soulfully into his eyes as the music weeps forth. The music store people declare that the old tunes bring the beau to the speaking point as the saxophones never do.—Milwaukee Journal.

THE PROPER COURSE

Information of Priceless Value to Every Paris Citizen

How to act in an emergency is knowledge of inestimable worth, and this is particularly true of the diseases and ills of the human body. If you suffer with kidney backache, urinary disorders, or any form of kidney trouble, the advice contained in the following statement should add a valuable asset to your store of knowledge. What could be more convincing proof of the efficiency of Doan's Kidney Pills than the statement of a Paris citizen, who used them and who publicly tells of the benefit derived?

Mrs. A. L. Burley, 329 Eighth street, Paris, says: "I have used Doan's Kidney Pills a few times and from the benefit obtained I can say they are a good reliable remedy. When my kidneys have acted irregularly or my back has been weak and lame I have always found that a box or so of Doan's Kidney Pills, which I get at Ardery's Drug Store relieve the complaint quickly."

The above statement was given November 10, 1916, and on November 12, 1920, Mrs. Burley said: "I haven't changed my opinion of Doan's Kidney Pills, and recommend them just as highly to-day as when I gave my former statement."

AMERICAN LEGION THANKS THE NEWSPAPERS

Ed THE NEWS, Paris, Ky.: The Clean-Up Campaign and Service Census carried on by the American Legion and Kentucky Disabled Ex-service Men's Board has been a tremendous success. We all knew that there were numerous ex-service men in Kentucky disabled by their World War service, who are not receiving compensation. However, there had been no systematic effort to secure their names and addresses. At this writing there are more than twelve hundred (1200) names and addresses on file in this office, most cases having the necessary data to secure an early adjustment.

Since the success of this clean-up drive and service census has been largely due to the publicity secured from the newspapers of Kentucky, the Board at its July meeting passed a resolution thanking the newspapers of Kentucky for their co-operation. Attached hereto you will find a copy of said resolution which is forwarded so that you will have a permanent record of how much we appreciate co-operation.

You will remember that the date of the campaign was June 30 to July 11. When the latter day came around the campaign had assumed such proportions and was going so good that it could not be stopped. Consequently every county is working according to its local situation, and will continue until every disabled ex-service man has gotten his business straightened out with Uncle Sam.

Louisville, Ky., July 27, 1922. "Whereas, The work of Kentucky Disabled Ex-service Men's Board has been greatly assisted through the State-wide publicity given by, and the complete co-operation of, the newspapers of Kentucky, and

"Whereas, The Clean-Up Campaign and Service Census conducted by this Board and the American Legion has succeeded in causing hundreds of Kentuckians disabled by their World War service to properly bring their claims before the United States Veterans' Bureau, and

"Whereas, Said Clean-Up Campaign and Service Census could not have been conducted so successfully without the co-operation of said newspapers.

"Now, Therefore Be It Resolved, That this Board at its July meeting goes on record in appreciation of the said co-operation of the Kentucky newspapers, and instructs the secretary to mail a copy of this resolution to each newspaper in Kentucky.

THE PHONE'S INVENTOR

(Courier-Journal)

The telephone has been for many years a commonplace convenience, used by millions of persons who give no thought to means by which they are able to speak to other persons, across a city, across a county, or across a continent.

The life of Dr. Alexander Graham Bell, who invented the telephone, spanned the most brilliant period of invention the world has known; a development of mechanical science which revolutionized ordinary life.

Men and women who hardly are willing to admit that they are middle-aged recall the time when telephones were not in general use, and when the accepted means of quick neighborhood communication was to send a boy to carry a note. The safety bicycle now ridden by messenger boys had not been invented. Its predecessor, the "ordinary," was a toy of the brave who deserved, in popular opinion, broken necks, as the reward of their foolhardiness.

To enumerate the marvels which have become commonplace since Dr. Bell invented the telephone would be to invite a generation sated with the wizardry of inventors to consider, and to honor, its wizards. Yet, hardly anything that could be mentioned could be said to have been a greater benefaction than Dr. Bell's realized dream. He must, therefore, be rated highly by reasonable men and women among the world's great men. Those who contribute permanently to human welfare, those who construct what time does not prove valueless; those who discover magical secrets which, by use of mechanical appliances, are made to serve mankind, are greater than conquerors, and greater than many who are classified as statesmen.

Ponder a moment the difficulties that lack of communication by telephone, for one day, creates, and consider, if for a moment only, your obligation to a man whose contemporaries divided into a group which believed him a dreamer and a group which believed him a schemer, when he made his early efforts to sell stock in his telephone company.

It Napoleon had never been born the present generation would have missed thrilling accounts of stirring adventures. If Alexander Graham Bell had not been born the arrival of the Twentieth Century might have found time-valuing Americans without the telephone.

PROHIBITING USE OF GLARING LIGHTS

One of the regulations of the State law governing the operation of motor vehicles that seems to be very feebly enforced, if at all, is that prohibiting the use of blinding lights. This regulation is constantly and repeatedly violated particularly on the rural roads where such lights are used without dimmers and even spotlights in full glare, which is positively banned.

The blinding lights have been the cause of many accidents and others have been narrowly averted. The use of these high-power lights is a dangerous practice but most motorists cannot bring themselves to comply with a regulation, as this one seems to be followed in the breach nearly as much as in the observance.

Can Beat 'Em.

HER AILMENTS ALL GONE NOW

Mrs. Sherman Helped by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Lake, Michigan.—"About one year ago I suffered with irregularities and a weakness and at times was obliged to stay off my feet. I doctored with our family physician and he finally said he could not understand my case, so I decided to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. After I had taken the first bottle I could see that I was getting better. I took several bottles of the Vegetable Compound and used Lydia E. Pinkham's Sanative Wash and I am entirely cured of my ailments. You may publish this letter if you wish."—Mrs. MARY SHERMAN, Route 2, Lake, Mich.

There is one fact women should consider and that is this. Women suffer from irregularities and various forms of weakness. They try this and that doctor, as well as different medicines. Finally they take Lydia E. Pinkham's Compound, and Mrs. Sherman's experience is simply another case showing the merit of this well-known medicine.

If your family physician fails to help you and the same old troubles persist, why isn't it reasonable to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound?

MORGANS MEN TO MEET AUGUST 15-16.

Their ranks thinned to only a few more than two score, surviving members of Gen. John Hunt Morgan's famous brigade, which, during the Civil War won fame by a raid in three States across the Ohio River, will meet August 15 and 16 in their annual reunion at the Lexington Country Club.

Hitherto the veterans have held their annual reunion at Olympian Springs or other resorts in this section, but this year are meeting at the invitation of the Country Club Association, of which State Senator J. Will Stoll is president. Lexington is a more central point than the other meeting places, and tiresome journeys will be avoided.

There will be no formal program at this union. Following the usual custom, it will be a reunion in the real sense, recalling of old memories being the feature of the two days' session.

Each year the rollcall of the Morgan's Men Association reveals that the ranks are thinning fast. Last year nearly three score were present.

BATS 1,000 IN THE "STEW" LEAGUE

One of the longest sprees in history was attributed to a former bartender, August Detering, by his wife, Rose, who told a Brooklyn Magistrate her husband got drunk the day prohibition went into effect and had been drunk ever since.

Before prohibition, Detering never touched a drop, the wife declared. He pleaded guilty to disorderly conduct and was locked up. Meanwhile police will investigate the story.

A Dog's Devotion.

Lovers of dogs will be interested in the story told at an inquest at the London hospital on the body of a man who committed suicide by throwing himself out of a window. In a letter written just before his death he wrote: "My dog Teddy follows me about. He knows things are very bad with me. I do hope he will be taken care of. As I pace up and down my room he walks with me." A witness said that the dog was very fond of his master and always seemed to understand when he was worried and in trouble.

Sir Ernest's Story.

Sir Ernest Shackleton was always fond of a good story. Here is one that he used to tell about himself. A gushing lady had been introduced to him and began at once to talk about his voyages. "I always think," she said, "that one must have such wonderful dreams while leading that kind of life." "Beautiful dreams, indeed," said Sir Ernest. "Oh, do tell me, now, what you used to dream about in the Antarctic?" "Treacle pudding," answered the explorer.—London Tit-Bits.

LEXINGTON POSTOFFICE TO REPRESENT STATE

The postoffice at Lexington, is one of the 50 offices selected by Assistant Postmaster-General Glover as serving representative industrial centers in their respective sections, for which postoffice receipts are to be published monthly as an index to industrial prosperity. The postoffice receipts for Lexington for July were $21,522.40, compared with $18,016.15 for July of last year. This is an increase of $4,506.24, or 19.45 per cent, compared with an average increase of 10.45 per cent for the 50 cities.

Following the annual listing of postoffices and their classification, it was announced at the postoffice department that Kentucky still holds second place in the number of postoffices.

Pennsylvania, with 2,987, leads all States, Kentucky is second with 2,568. Then comes New York with 2,289, Texas with 2,288 and Virginia with 2,281. All other States have less than 2,000 postoffices.

A GRAF PRODUCTION

—MONDAY

HOBART BOSWORTH in "White Hands"

"White Hands" is a rip-roaring, fighting picture woven around a woman alone on the edge of Sahara in a nest of crime. It's a drama of white heart passion. It will hold you spellbound from start to finish. Don't miss this wonderful production.

DEATHS

Life Is But A Brief Span, A Debt That All Must Pay

HERBERT

—Following a short illness Mrs. Emma Payne Herbert, aged about sixty, wife of Dr. Frank A. Herbert, died Wednesday night at the family home in Millersburg. See the Millersburg department of THE NEWS for an extended notice.

GREGORY

—Mrs. Mary Louise Gregory, aged seventy-six, died recently at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Arthur Talbott, in Cynthiana. She had been in failing health for some time. Mrs. Gregory was born in Bourbon county in 1845, and was a daughter of the late James and Margaret Steele Pollock, of near Riddles Mills. In 1865 she was married to Mr. Gregory, who died about four years ago. Most of their life was spent on their farm in Bourbon county but some years ago they moved to Harrison county, where they were numbered among the best citizen and held in the highest regard.

Mrs. Gregory is survived by three daughters, Mrs. Claude Fisher, of Bourbon county; Mrs. Arthur Talbott, of Cynthiana; Miss Anna Gregory, of Pineville, and two brothers. The funeral was held at the family home in Cynthiana, with services conducted by Revs. J. R. Jones and Clyde Darsie. The interment followed on the family lot in Battle Grove Cemetery.

ADAIR

—A message received late Tuesday evening by Mrs. George Batterton, told of the sudden death of her sister, Mrs. George Adair, which occurred at her home in Pensacola, Oklahoma. The telegram gave no particulars, merely stating that another message would be sent telling when the body would be brought to her old home for interment.

Mrs. Adair was before her marriage Miss Wellington Smith, daughter of Mrs. Julia Houston, residing on the Clay and Kiser pike, near Paris. The news of the sudden death of Mrs. Adair, who was very popular with a large circle of friends and relatives, came as a distinct shock to those who knew her. Her's was a sunny disposition that made bright the pathway she trod through life and to the friends and relatives who knew her best she was ever loyal and true.

Mrs. Adair is survived by her husband, George Adair, formerly of Bourbon county, and two children, a son and daughter, one and four years old respectively; her mother, Mrs. Julia Houston, one sister, Mrs. George Batterton, of Paris; two brothers, Jos. B. Smith, of Paris, and Duke Smith, of Harrison county. The body will arrive in Paris probably this morning, and will be taken to the home of Mrs. Adair's mother, Mrs. Julia Houston, on the Clay and Kiser pike, where the funeral will be held at 2:30 o'clock, Saturday afternoon. The interment will follow on the family lot in the Paris Cemetery. The pallbearers will be: Samuel Houston, Jos. Houston, Wm. Houston, Milton Adair, Robert Adair, Allen Adair.

TWO THOUSAND LAMBS SOLD

At the weekly sale of lambs held in Lexington, Wednesday by the Fayette County Lamb and Wool Growers' Association, 2,000 lambs were sold for a total of more than $17,000. Caywood & Jones, of North Middletown, bought 244 lambs averaging 78 pounds, at $12.05, and 365 lambs, averaging 63 pounds, for $8.05.

SHIRLEY MASON HERE IN NEW FOX PICTURE

Keep a little coin for the Alamo and Grand box-office. Shirley Mason is due Tuesday afternoon and night in a Fox photoplay entitled "Queenie"—an exceedingly interesting story, as any one who has read Wilbur Finley Fauley's book will agree.

Miss Mason is always a bright and entertaining actress. With her five feet (in height, of course), she has more vivacity than any other screen artist we recall.

In "Queenie" she portrays the character of a girl raised as the "all-around" maid and drudge of a young ladies' seminary. Advance reports credit the picture with plenty of snap and go.
